

Dear Autism Tasmania Supporter,

Current research shows that approximately 1 in 100 children have been diagnosed with Autism - almost 230,000 Australians. Early intervention can help people living with an ASD make excellent social and economic contributions towards the future of Australia.

There is no cure for people living with an ASD. Autism Tasmania provides education support and training to Tasmanians living with Autism. We need your financial support to continue to provide our services including: local service information and referral, early intervention advice, Autism support groups, training services, workshops and individual or family consultations.

Our organisation is committed to making futures brighter and providing an ongoing support network to the Tasmanians whom we support. To enable us to continue this commitment, please make a donation today, together we can make a difference!

Donate to Autism Tasmania today and help fund vital services that support your fellow Tasmanians living with an ASD. To donate, simply complete and return the donation coupon below.
